A HOLISTIC PROCESS SAFETY OFFER COVERING FULL PROJECT LIFECYCLE

Competency Training and SynergenOG are jointly supporting energy, mining and power companies to meet the challenge of delivering safe working environments and of maintaining sustainable operations by adopting a full project lifecycle approach, from people to plant and process.

The collaboration between the companies sees SynergenOG implementing process safety engineering, while Competency Training develops training modules to ensure workforces have the appropriate knowledge to execute operations safely within a high performing environment.

The synergies driven by the combined offer are fundamental to process safety and will promote an organizational culture where process safety is at the forefront of business activities.

The deliverables for clients encompass:

- A uniquely holistic approach, diverging significantly from other offers which focus on either engineering or training, not both.
- Tailormade Process Safety courses designed for all employees from the general workforce, supervisors and engineers, through to team leaders and senior management.
- Substantial improvements in clients' ability to maximize productivity in safer working environments.
- Cost effective and timely solution delivery, integrating training to Australian standards for international workforces without the need for costly airfares and logistical support.
- Minimisation of training downtime and cost, allowing clients to reallocate funding towards broader business objectives.

“WE WANT HIGH PERFORMING TEAMS – WE WANT TO BE THE BEST.”

But how do we keep growing unless our workers have the right skills, keep learning and build on their knowledge?”

DELIVERING AUSTRALIAN STANDARDS FOR GLOBAL WORKFORCES

As solutions providers, SynergenOG and Competency Training offer the industry's only single source provision of process safety engineering and training solutions. This includes delivering to personnel a combination of highly valued international experience and country-specific qualifications and competencies.

“We need our investment in training to be cost effective while ensuring compliance with Australian standards. We discovered a solutions based approach that delivers.”
